TERMS OF USE

This website (the "Website") is operated and owned by OA Legal SA. By accessing the Website, you agree to these Terms of Use.

The content of our Website is provided for general information purposes only and shall not be construed as legal advice on any specific facts or circumstances or as a basis for any specific action or decision. You should not act upon the information on the Website without seeking prior advice from a qualified lawyer licensed in your country of jurisdiction. Nothing on this Website is to be considered as creating an attorney-client relationship or as rendering of legal advice for any specific matter. No part of the Website is legally binding or enforceable and is made without express or implied warranties or representations of any kind.

Although we make reasonable efforts to keep all information contained on the Website accurate and up-to-date, we do not guarantee the timeliness, accuracy or completeness of the information, opinions and analysis contained on the Website. To the extent permitted under Swiss law, we do not accept any liability whatsoever for any loss or damage resulting from the use of, or reliance on, the Website, or for any inaccuracies, errors or omissions in any content of the Website. References or links to other websites are provided for informational purposes only and are accessed at your own risk.

All information, analysis and opinions contained on the Website may be amended at any time without any prior notification.

Unless indicated otherwise, the content available on the Website, including publications, available material, designs, logos and photographs (the "Content"), is protected by copyright and/or other intellectual property rights and all rights remain reserved to the rightful owner. Any reproduction, distribution or retransmission of the Content is prohibited without our prior written approval.

Emails may be subject to technical or operational interferences which may impede their delivery, security and confidentiality. Any urgent or important requests should be made by telephone or regular post (with proof of receipt). Furthermore, we do not assume any liability for any breach of the attorney-client privilege due to email communication.

When using our Electronic Document Management System (EDMS), you are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality and security of your password and for any activity that occurs under the use of your password. You must inform us immediately of any unauthorized use or security breach of your password or account.

These Terms of Use are governed by Swiss substantive law. The courts of the canton of Geneva shall have exclusive jurisdiction for any dispute arising out of, or in connection with the use of this Website.
